“It is not the critic who counts;
not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better...”

JOHN

“The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood...”

“Who strives valiantly...”

“Who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat.”

Deputy Caesar Cisneros

“He reminds people of what their disease has done to others, challenges them when needed, but shows compassion, kindness and encouragement. It might be handing them a Kleenex or making sure they get to eat before turning themselves in, but clients remember each interaction they have with him no matter how big or small.”

Therapist

“Deputy Cisneros listens to the participants and is a steady source of empathy and inspiration. He never uses what he learns to judge or punish; instead, he is always searching for a way to support. He guards the confidences participants entrust to him and only uses them to further assist their sobriety goals.”

Justin – Defense Attorney

“This man showed me that the program was designed to help us succeed, and while I was still afraid, he still sincerely cared and didn’t give up the conversation until I changed my mind and became willing. This man didn’t know the power of what he did at the time, but if it weren’t for that man, I wouldn’t be here today. Thank you, Deputy Cisneros, your actions that day quite possibly saved my life.”

Donald - Drug Court Graduate

“You gave me hope. I don’t know how many times even while I was in custody you would stop me around the jail and encourage me to keep moving forward and not get caught up in the “jail lifestyle.” You told me you believed in me and that I could overcome all this. You told me to keep fighting...and I did!”

Shay – Drug Court Graduate

“Finally, my court date came around. I was on calendar in H4 with Judge Anderson. I was filled with fear and shame. I didn’t believe there was any hope for me. How wrong I was. First, I met Deputy Cisneros. He greeted me with kindness. I was taken aback. He told me I was not a number, I mattered. I felt like crying. I wanted to believe him.”

Patricia – DUI Court Graduate

“I tell my clients you never talk to cops...”

Deputy Cisneros has earned being the exception to the rule.”
